NEWS FROM SECOND CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Esther, the sacred Cantata, presented at this church on the 17th, brought forth expressions from all, that it was the highest entertaining feature of entertainment yet presented at Second Calvary and the equal of any ever presented in Columbia. Intelligent Columbia was out in large numbers, both white and colored, and many out-of-Columbia visitors came for the expressed purpose of witnessing Esther.

Every participant played well his and her part without a break.

The door receipt was creditable and satisfying. After deducting all expenses, Mrs. Moore, the promoter of the cantata, was able to turn over to the church Sunday morning a neat sum as a beginning of our Pipe Organ Fund. Dr. N. A. Jenkins was elected treasurer of this special fund and the same was deposited in The Victory Savings Bank Monday morning.

In the regular routine of announcements Sunday morning Mrs. Moore took occasion to thank each participant for what they had done to make a success of the cantata and to express her high appreciation to the public for their attendance.

Dea. Goode followed this with a motion to extend a standing vote of thanks to Mrs. Moore for her untiring efforts to make this cantata a success.

Sunday seemed to have been a home-coming day for the members of Calvary.

The members turned out in large numbers and many were the visitors. Dr. Moore took for his morning text: Heb. 10-7. "Then said I, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God." Subject: "The Obedience of Jesus." From this text Dr. Moore held his congregation, as it were in the palm of his hand, while he wielded the sword of truth and made happy many sad hearts.

After a creditable collection Mr. J. A. Roach used about five minutes to report for the committee which the church sent to Sumter the Sunday before to secure the pastor's release from the two churches in Sumter and the county to which the pastor had been called and which he had accepted. In a few selected words Mr. Roach showed the wisdom of the church in sending over this committee, not only in taking a high and honorable stand, but because as he was one of the committee this was the only honorable way such a release could have been secured. Second Calvary had taken a united stand to retain the pastor after conditions in Sumter had grown so acute, therefore it was up to Second Calvary to untangle the web, and keep the pastor and church in the good graces of the good people of Sumter—it was not the duty of the pastor and he could not have performed it. All were satisfied with the report and rejoiced that the wise step was taken.

Applications from many have come to Mrs. Moore to repeat this cantata in the city. Many say it should be presented in the Columbia Theatre. It is not yet decided just what will be done, but the writer would suggest to ministers in near by towns that if they can guarantee a good audience it would pay them to take up the matter with Mrs. Moore.

THE BOOKER T. WASHINGTON MONUMENT TO BE UNVEILED APRIL 5TH, 1922.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM.

William H. Taft, in his address on Founder's Day at Tuskegee Institute two years ago, declared that Founder's Day at Tuskegee Institute should be as significant to the Negro as George Washington's birthday is to the American public in general. The host of Negroes and white friends who gather at the Institute each year upon this occasion to pay tribute to the memory of Dr. Booker T. Washington, attest the esteem in which this event is held, not only by Negroes but the public at large. There is a special interest in the observance this year on account of the Unveiling of the Booker T. Washington Monument which will be held in connection with the Founder's Day Exercises April 5th.

Prominent Speakers on Program.

Each year since the death of Dr. Booker T. Washington a prominent American has delivered the Founder's Day Address. The array of speakers on the program this year is composed of some of the most eloquent orators and leaders of thought in America. The Founder's Day Address will be delivered by Dr. Wallace Buttrick, Chairman of the General Education Board; Hon. Josephus Daniels, ex-Secretary of the Navy, will represent the South; Dr. George C. Hall, one of the leading citizens of Chicago, will represent the Negro, and Dr. Emmett J. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer, Howard University, who for eighteen years was Secretary to Dr. Washington, will formally present the monument to the Trustees of the Institute.

A Recognition of Service.

The Booker T. Washington Monument, which is the work of the famous sculptor, Charles Keck, of New York, has been proclaimed "a master work of art" by those who have visited the sculptor's studio. It is a representation in bronze, standing eight feet high of Booker T. Washington, "lifting the veil" of ignorance and superstition from the eyes of the Negro and pointing the way to opportunity, prosperity and success through education, industry and thrift. The statue will be erected upon an artistic base eight feet high, in the center of the campus and will stand as an indication of the recognition of, and the appreciation

A GREAT CITIZEN IN COLUMBIA—I. S. LEEVY.

Columbia has many valuable intelligent and good citizens, but there are none greater than Mr. I. S. Leevy; every since he came to our city he has been tending upward and calling upon others to follow him unselfishly, he is a citizen that any community should be proud of, he is a good community worker. If he makes mistakes he has no sinister intentions because his heart beats in the right direction. Columbia should honor him. We should appreciate our consecrated laymen and preachers should back up such men as R. W. Westberry of Sumter and I. S. Leevy. They are not selfish men nor grafters, they stand ready to do good at all times.

DR. J. O. ALLEN HEARD FROM.

We are pleased to learn thru The Southern Indicator that Reverend H. M. Moore, D. D., has decided to remain with Second Calvary. Dr. Moore is an exceptionally strong young man; a clean, moral, Christian gentleman. He won my confidence and respect when a student, when struggling to remain in school, we opened our churches for him during the summers, and had him to preach for us. He always had good sense, a great deal more than the average young preacher, for he knew that he was not much of a preacher, but had a good Christian foundation and strong faith in his God, and a strong ambition. With these attributes I was sure he would succeed. Dr. Moore has ever shown his appreciation. Since finishing school he has kept me well informed by sending me each year the annual report of his work, thus noting his rapid advance. The report for 1921, with that of Second Calvary seemingly surpasses all previous years, and as far as I have been able to note being the greatest work done in the history of that church. But while still musing over the marvelous work of my beloved me that he had resigned me that he had resigned to go to another field; I interested myself to learn if the church had given him occasion, being assured there was none; hence I felt disappointed and became anxious for both, church and pastor. Great men are always in demand and quite often they allow great inducements to move them before the Lord is ready. Reverend H. M. Moore is a great man and he will always be in demand. And so long as he observes that sermon he preached to his people January the 5th, he will not go wrong. I believe that Dr. Moore has yielded and obeyed the voice of Allwise Providence.

Yours, J. O. Allen.
